Mysticism is the direct experience of the divine. It is a state of consciousness in which the individual is united with the Absolute, or God. Mystics come from all walks of life and all religions. They are people who have dedicated their lives to seeking a deeper understanding of the spiritual world.

Mystics often experience visions, dreams, and other extraordinary phenomena. They may also have a heightened sense of intuition and be able to communicate with spirits. However, not all mystics have these experiences. What all mystics share is a deep love for God and a desire to experience the divine presence in all things.
