

Titanic April 1912: A Riveting Account of Survival and Resilience

On April 15, 1912, the RMS Titanic, the largest and most luxurious passenger ship ever built, set sail from Southampton, England, on her maiden voyage to New York City. Just four days later, the ship struck an iceberg and sank in the icy waters of the North Atlantic, taking the lives of over 1,500 people.

Among the survivors of the Titanic disaster was Matt Christopher, a young boy who was traveling with his family in third class. In his book, "Titanic April 1912," Christopher recounts his harrowing experience of that fateful night.
